

DIRECTIONS BY ROAD

From the North and London: if coming from the M25 down the A21, turn left off the A21 shortly before Hurst Green on to the A229, in the direction of Hawkhurst. Turn right at the traffic lights in Hawkhurst on to the A268 and stay on this until Northiam, shortly before reaching Northiam bear left, following the A268 signposted to Rye. After passing through Beckley and before you leave Peasmarsch, the best approach to Dew Farm is to take the right hand turning up Church Lane.

From London and the East: follow M20 to Ashford, exit M20 at Junction 10 and follow A2070 and then A259 to Rye. Turn right at the roundabout in Rye and follow A268 to Peasmarsch. As you arrive in Peasmarsch take the first left, Church lane. After passing the Church, Church lane stops at the junction outside Peasmarsch place, at this junction turn left onto Dew Lane (signposted Brede), after 200 yards the lane turns sharply right and becomes Starvecrow lane. Bear straight on at this corner down the private drive, bear left at the brick gates and you will see the signs for Tillingham.

From West Sussex: please avoid the cross-country route via Starvecrow lane from the A2089, this is 5 miles of very narrow single-track lane. For those coming from the coast, please head to Rye on the A259 and then North to Peasmarsch on the A268. As you arrive in Peasmarsch take the first left, Church lane. After passing the Church, Church lane stops at the junction outside Peasmarsch place, at this junction turn left onto Dew Lane (signposted Brede), after 200 yards the lane turns sharply right and becomes Starvecrow lane. Bear straight on at this corner down the private drive, bear left at the brick gates and you will see the signs for Tillingham.

From Mid Sussex: after Cripps corner either take the route via B2165 towards Staplecross then Beckley or head to Rye on the B2089.
